OHSAA Playoff Procedures

The OHSAA established the football playoff system in 1971 and began with the 1972 season. From 1972-1979, the OHSAA used the established three classes, AAA, AA and A, based on enrollment of schools, with the playoff involving each of four regional champions in each class, or 12 teams. In 1980, the OHSAA recognized five divisions, and the playoff involved the top two teams in each region, or 40 teams. In 1985, participation increased to the top four teams in each region and involved 80 teams. In 1994, the OHSAA set a sixth division, and 96 teams were involved. A revision in 1999 increased the involvement to the top eight teams in each region, or 192 teams participating. A seventh division was added beginning in 2013; therefore, 224 teams now participate in the playoffs. The top ranked teams in each region have hosted the first week of the playoffs since the 1999 revision.

Beginning in 2021, the playoffs expanded to 16 teams per region, with the top seeds hosting thru the second round of the playoffs.

In 2020, due to Covid-19 and a shortened season, all OHSAA teams could opt into the playoffs, with coaches voting to determine seeds and brackets. Better seeds will host the opening weeks of the playoffs.

In 2021, the playoffs will expand to 16 teams per region, with the top seeds hosting in the first and second round of the playoffs.
